The Catalina Summit Series 7 is engineered for campers who need ultra-lightweight, compact, and highly towable travel trailers without giving up quality or comfort. Built with the same trusted construction and core features found throughout the Summit Series lineup, these models focus on smaller, efficient floorplans, many well under 3,000 lbs, making them an ideal match for smaller SUVs and compact pickup trucks. The slightly narrower 90" wide profile of the Summit Series 7, offer easier maneuverability and improved towability for lighter, smaller vehicles. Unlike most trailers around the industry building in this entry-level low price trailer segment, every model includes must-have features like a black tank flush system, large exterior awnings with outside lighting, and several layouts even offer full-size 10 cu ft refrigerators, a few conveniences rarely found, but game changing for a much better experience in this trailer class. With styling, top layouts, and practical amenities, the Summit Series 7 delivers exceptional accessibility for buyers seeking an ultra lightweight, most affordable, and adventure ready travel trailer.

The Catalina Legacy Edition represents one of the best values in the affordable travel trailer market, delivering upgraded comfort, modern style, and premium features at a price point well below many competing models. Built with the same high-quality construction and core amenities found in the Catalina Summit Series, the Legacy Edition elevates the experience with enhanced interior finishes and camping conveniences designed for today's RV lifestyle. This lineup offers several versatile, largely half-ton towable floorplans with standards such as solid-surface kitchen countertops, expanded seating and sleeping solutions, larger panoramic windows, aluminum wheels, and the available automatic self-leveling systems, features typically reserved for higher-end trailers. Many models also include spacious bedroom slide-outs, washer/dryer prep, generous storage, and standout exterior upgrades like oversized awnings and fully equipped outdoor kitchens that maximize time spent outside. Perfect for both new and experienced travelers, the Catalina Legacy Edition blends quality craftsmanship, practical design, and exceptional value, making it an ideal choice for families and couples who want a feature-rich, budget-friendly travel trailer built for memorable adventures.

The Catalina Trail Blazer Toy Hauler from Coachmen RV delivers one of the best values in the affordable toy hauler market, offering rugged cargo capability paired with the elevated comfort and design Catalina is known for. Built with the same high-quality construction and upgraded amenities found in the Legacy Edition, Trail Blazer models feature versatile floorplans designed for hauling everything from ATVs and side-by-sides, to motorcycles, e-bikes and golf carts. With frame-mounted steel tie-downs, standard exterior toy lock cables, and floorplans ranging from innovative bunkbed storage designs to fully separate garage layouts, your cargo stays secure on any adventure. A few premium touches like solid-surface counters, high-capacity on-demand water heaters, JBL audio systems, optional automatic self-leveling, and solar upgrades provide a level of convenience rarely found at this price point. Add the optional party deck, and the Trail Blazer becomes the perfect blend of utility, comfort, and outdoor entertainment, delivering all the functionality of a premium toy hauler without the premium expense, making it one of the most affordable toy haulers on the road.

for more info

Catalina Destination trailers bridge the gap between traditional RVing and a true vacation home feel, delivering spacious semi-permanent setup with comfortable residential feel. Featuring mostly residential size appliances, ceiling fans, and available washer and dryer setups, these models prioritize everyday comforts for the weekender, or summer cabin stay while maintaining our long-standing reputation for superior quality and affordability. Higher ceilings and large scenic windows create an open, airy atmosphere perfect for seasonal sites, lakeside getaways, or secluded property retreats. The popular Condo models expand sleeping capacity and headroom even further, with select floorplans offering the convenience of two full bathrooms, making the Catalina Destination Series an ideal blend of home like luxury, and longer term campsite versatility.

Behind the Brand

To our existing owners, future campers joining our Coachmen Catalina families, and partnered dealerships; the difference in a good product versus a great product often lies in the detail designed into the consumer friendly features of a product and the reliability of the product. Our team understands and has the continuous goal, and responsibility of providing top of the line trailers, with an exceptional value, backed by unmatched customer service. For us to keep providing the best products requires the need to stay innovative and interactive. Through extensive research, incorporating feedback adjustments, and continuing to make changes each year to ensure we are always improving the trailers we provide. Our team is excited that Catalina is able provide a broad selection of choices, through smaller lightweight single-axles trailers, highly sought after conventional travel trailers, toy haulers, and destination trailers. Though we cover several segments, we are focused on ensuring the best possible floorplans in each of our offerings. We understand the importance of quality, and the quality of materials used in our construction, the material used is just the first building block to ensuring you are going to love your Catalina for so many years. Each trailer receives several levels of thorough inspection throughout the manufacturing process, and again after its completion. For us, quality does not just stop at the trailers we build, that focus continues in the features, designs, comforts, and diversity of layouts to provide the most optimal opportunity to meet and exceed each customers needs. That's still not enough for us, that quality continues is in how we do business; our customer service teams are not only fantastic groups and fun to work with, but are such a valuable part of our dedication to upholding the kind of service, and support for which our Legacy has been built on throughout our incredible history. Not only does this ensure a rewarding customer experience and satisfaction, it also generates excitement and enthusiasm among our Catalina owners, dealership partners, and employees working with our trailers each day!

Thank you for your business,

-The Coachmen Catalina Team
